VICTOR NAPOLEON'S PRIENDS CHEER HIM ON HIS WAY TO DELIGIUM.

Many Adherents Say Farewell to the Count of Paris-He will Issue a Manifesto from his Retreat in England-The Royalist Press Predict the Downfall of the Republic, Paris, June 23 .- Prince Victor and fifteen of his most prominent adherents, including he Marquis of Valette and Baron Haussmann, started to-day for Brussels. The train bearing the party left the station amid cries of "Vive l'Empereur!" "Au revotr!" and shouts of "Vive la Republique!" There was some hissing. Several persons were arrested.

The Count of Paris, his son, and suite will arrive at Tunbridge Wells, England, on Friday, and will take up their residence there. The Count will issue a manifesto protesting against his expulsion and outlining the monarchical Count Foucher de Carell, Ambassador to the Austrian court, has resigned in protest against the action of his government in expelling the French princes. It is believed that M. Wad-dington, French Ambassador to the court of St. James's will resum in consequence of the St. James's, will test an in consequence of the expuision of the princes. His resignation is momentarily expected.

The Royalist press pronounces the passage of the Expuision bill the forerunner of the downfall of the republic. The Moderate Republican papers generally criticise the measure as unjust. The Operaturist journals urge the Government to discard the demands of the Irreconcliables and Radicals, and they domand a firmer republican colley.

Prince Napoleon (Pion-Pion) will take refuge in Switzerjand.

Prince Victor, at a reception before starting for Brussels, said; "Do not expect a vain protest from me. A people sometimes takes it upon itself to open its doors to an exile. I remain a representative of the empire as the Napoleons constituted it. I favor ifrom authority, equality of all citizens, and respect for all creeds. Be assured that whatover call duty may make, I shall not be found wanting in the fulfillment of what I owe to the democracy and to my name. An revolv."

Prince Victor attracted very little attention on his arrival in Brussels.

London, June 23.—A large number of eminent Catholic Revallsts assembled at Dieppe to-day, preparatory to participating in a popular demonstration in honor of the Count of Paris, which will take place at Eu to-morrow. The Due d'Nemoure and the Due d'Alencon are determined to accompany the Count into exile, but the Due d'Aumale and the Due d'Chartres have already gone to welcome him upon his arrival, although the Count would much prefer to be allowed to come to London quietly. The condition of his daughter. Princess Louise, who is ill with scarint fever, has not improved, and the Duchess d'Chartres will remain at the château d'Eu to nurse her.

An enthusiastic meeting in favor of home rule for Iroland was held at St. James's Hall this evening. Mr. Parnell at the last moment sent word that he would be unable to attend. Mr. Sexton declared that Mr. Vincent went to Iroland in the guise of a Tory ambassador, sought interviews with the chief Parnellites, and discussed with them the principles and details of an Irish Barhament. Ear! Carnarvon saw Lord Salisbury immediately before and immediately after his interview with Mr. Parnell. He (Sexton) asked rational men whether all this was a joke. As a matter of fact, he added, if Lord Salisbury had secured a majority sufficient to make him independent of the Orangemen, he would certainly have introduced a home rule bill.

At a united meeting of the Baptist societies held at Taunton to-day a resolution in favor of granting home rule to Iroland was adopted by 79 to 5.

At a meeting of Midiothian Conservatives to-day it was decided not to contest the district against Mr. Giadstone.

POLICEMAN DAAB AND HIS PISTOL.

He is Accused of Shooting at Children whi

Among the transfers of policemen announced yesterday was that of Patrolman Philip Daab from Morrisania to Madison street. According to the statements of residents in Morrisania, he had not made a good record while serving up town. J. H. Schilling, a grocer at 144th street and Brook avenue, said yesterday that on Thursday night three weeks ago Daab was drunk while on post. Shortly after 8 o'clock he stood leaning against the police telegraph post from which he had just sent the signal that announced to the Sergeant at the deak in the station that he was on duty. He was waving about in such a drunken way, Mr. Schilling said, as to attract the atten-tion of a group of children across the

The children imprudently chalfed the policeman when they saw he was drunk, and he became wild with anger. He at once got out his pisted, they say, and lired it at them. Teamster Burke, in McLaughlin's employ, says two shots were fired, one passing very close to a group of teamsters who were in Brook avenue. Jimmie Curriti, one of the boys in the crowd, says he heard a bullet whistle past his ear.

Mr. Schilling went out and remonstrated with Daab, he says, but was chased by Daab, revolver in hand, back into the grocery. The policeman was going to arrest Schilling, but a friend came in and persuaded him to go away. Schilling complained to the Captain of the breciner, and Daab was, it is said, transferred in on sequence.

Commissioner Porter was asked to give Daab's record of lines for misdemensors for publication. He declined to do so, but said: 'He has been fifteen years on the force. His record is not by any means creditable. He has gone down into the Seventh precinct, where he is likely to get into trouble if he dees wrong."

Superintendent Murray said that he had heard nething of Daab's peculiar conduct, and that the reason he was transferred was because there were two men too many in the Morrisania squad.

Solomon Cohen, who is employed at Police Headquarters, told a Sux reporter that Daab once draw a revolver on him in a triffing dispute. Policemen about headquarters said he was known in the Seventeenth precinct as Crazy Daab. The Sergeant in Morrisania also spoke of him as Crazy Daab.

THE STOCK EXCUINGE QUOTATIONS. The Governors Enjoined from Making a Contest or Contract,

For a long time the authorities of the Stock Exchange have been trying to devise some means to absolutely control the quotations made in the Exchange, so that the use of them shall not be abused, principally Several plans to do this are now under consideration and the likelihood that some one of them will be executed seems to have caused some of the telegraph companies a good deal of alarm.

In a published interview yesterday the President of the Commercial Telegraph Company was quoted as saying that some of the Governors of the Stock Exchange were consisting to degrive his company of quotations, principally the Chairman of its Committee of Arrangements, Mr. E. The Senate Committee on Commerce this answer to charges made against him. Beecher the office was closed, and he turned the money over to H. S. Temple, a postal route

FILIBUSTERING IN THE HOUSE.

Republicans Preventing a Vote on the Pro-Washington, June 23 .- The entire session of the House to-day was spent in filibustering the proposed amendment to the rules, providing that in every big pension bill a clause might be inserted authorizing the levy of a tax to meet the amount appropriated. As soon as Committee on Rules proposing the amendment, Mr. Reed of Maine raised the question of ment, Mr. Reed of Maine raised the question of consideration, and on a standing vote the House—80 to 91—refused to consider the report. The result was received with applause by the Republicans. But immediately afterward, on a yea and nay vote, the House determined—133 to 115—to consider the report, Mr. Reed changing his vote at the last moment to enable him to move a reconsideration. Having made that motion, he yielded to Mr. Hiscock to move to adjourn, and this metion he supplemented with another that when the House adjourns to-day it be to meet on Friday next. Mr. Burrows of Michigan ironically suggesting that Friday was too early a day, moved to substitute Saturday.

Thus, having Inida a foundation for a day of filibustering, the Republicans refrained from voting, and left the House without a quorum.

Mr. Morrison moved a call of the House, which was ordered, and the doors of the chamber were closed.

Then roll call followed roll call with monotonous regularity, while members lounged in their tude" until a quarter past 4 P. M., when further proceedings under the call were dispensed with and the question recurred on Mr. Burrows's motion to adjourn until Saturday. This was voted down-yeas 2; nays, 140-no quorum, and another roll call consumed the time to 5 o'clock, when the House adjourned. It is understood that the proposed change of rules will not be called up for consideration to-morrow, but that the right of way will be accorded the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill.

VICTORY FOR RAILROAD LAWYERS. Killing the Bill Forbidding them to Act as Counsel for Land Grant Companies.

Washington, June 23.—Senator Edmunds has succeeded, as was predicted, in preventing the passage of the bill to prohibit members of Congress from acting as counsel for land grant railroad companies. The bill was passed on June 10 by a vote of 32 to 11. It was reconsidered to-day by a vote of 31 to 21, and sent to the Judiciary Committee, of which land grant lawyer Edmunds is Chairman. Just before the the Judiciary Committee, of which land grant lawyer Edmunds is Chairman. Just before the vote was taken Mr. Vance with mock solemnity arose and said he would like hear the good old bill read once more before it was buried, as he never expected to hear of it again. Mr. Edmunds replied that the committee would consider and report the bill within eight days. "Adversely, of course," observed Mr. Beck, and the vote was taken.

The feature of the debate, which lasted the entire atternoon, was a speech from Land Grant Lawyer Evarts against the bill, of course, and he was so carnest that he called all the Sentiors out of the cleak room, and they gatheled around him listening with great interest. There was no difficulty to-day, as there usually is, in determining on what side of the question he was taking. He paid an eloquent fribute to his profession, and said that no where, in crout of the Senate, was such a stigma ever stamped upon that profession as was intested by this bill. He said it was an attack upon the intropicity and the independence of the law, an encroachment upon its honor and emuluments. An act of Congress would not make a dishonest Senator an honest man any more than a handouffed pickpocket. He said the bill discriminated against "unilateral" lawvers only, and surgested an amendment prothibiting Congressmen from taking fees against everporations.

Then Land Grant Lawyer Edmunds made his speech, in which he beraied Mr. Beck and necused him of insulting the Supreme Court with a charge of dishonesty. There were spicy coliquies all through the debate, and a great deal of feeling was shown on both sides. Gen. Joe Hawley's the man who holped the land grant lawyers to defeat Mr. Beck.

In regard to the talked-of scaling down of the inverest on the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad first merigage bonds, the Beston Daily Advertiser says that nothing has yet been done, the matter not having been brought before the Atchison directors for consideration. As they are large parties in interest, there is no reason to assume that the present status of affairs will be changed for some time to come. The July interest will doubtless be paid under the same circumstances as heretofore. It is, however, generally well known that the Atlantic and Pacific has never yet succeeded in earning its interest, which has up to this time been advanced by the Atchison and St. Louis and San Francisco Companies. It is not to be expected that such advances will be continued indefinitely, and it is probable that between how and the last of January some rearrangement of the relations of these roads to the Atlantic and Pacific will be made.

The annual report of the Central Pacific for

of the relations of these roads to the Atlantic and Pacific will be made.

The annual report of the Central Pacific for the year ending Doc. 31, 1885, shows a floating debt of $2,555,249, against $11,519,515 at the close of 1884. The funded debt was increased in 1885 $44,899,324 by the issue of $6,560,000 debenture bonds. The result of the operations for the year, including all receipts and all disbursements, is a balance of $367,769, applicable to the stock. Under the lease to the Southern Pacific Company $1,482,033 is due the lessor company. The gross earnings for 1885 were $4,612,500 less than in 1884, and the operating expenses $2,031,999 less, hence the net increased $419,440. The reason for a surplus of $367,769 for the year against $1,482,033 carned under the lease is that prior to the lease there was a deficit of $1,114,263.
